RED CHINA'S REPLY UNDER STUDY BY UN

BULLETIN
Lake Success, Jan. 23—(P)—Communist China's revised peace formula for Korea appeared today to have given added impetus to the Asian-Arab move to continue United Nations efforts toward a cease-fire. Most delegates still were awaiting instructions from their governments, but there was a strong private sentiment in favor of exhausting all possible avenues before adopting the United States proposal to brand the Peking regime as an aggressor. "This feeling was reflected to some extent in a statement made by British Prime Minister Attlee in the House of Commons today."

Lake Success, Jan. 23—(P)—The United Nations sidetracked U. S. charges of Communist Chinese aggression today to study Peking's statement that a Korean cease-fire could be arranged at the first meeting of a proposed conference on major Far Eastern problems.

Red China's "clarification" of its previous answer to the U. N. cease-fire call, read last night to the 60-nation political committee by India's Sir Benegal N. Rau, said:

1. A limited cease fire can be agreed on at the first meeting of a seven-nation conference which could then proceed to consider the political problems of the Far East.
2. The problems would include the withdrawal of all foreign troops, including Chinese, from Korea and withdrawal of the U. S. Seventh Fleet from the Far East straits.
3. "The legitimate status of the people's republic of China in the United Nations must be ensured."

Rau said he considered this new Chinese declaration, delivered by India's ambassador in Peking, satisfied the American and U. N. demand for "cease-fire first, negotiations afterwards."

U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin disagreed and termed it "A (Turn to Page Six)

GAS RESTRICTIONS IN PITTSBURGH EASE UP

Pittsburgh, Jan. 23 — (P) — Western Pennsylvania industries have more gas to burn today as a lull in a cold wave brought easing of restrictions.

One gas company imposed a 100 per cent cut as the vicious cold weather bore down on western Pennsylvania. All three companies slackened curtailments to only 50 per cent of normal today.

Bureau Backs Plan to Extend Deadline for Vets To File Bonus Applications

Harrisburg, Jan. 23—(P)—The State Bonus Bureau offered its support today to legislation to extend to July 1, 1951, the deadline for submitting applications for World War Two bonus payments.

"We have 3,200 applications on hand right now that we cannot process since they came in after the July 1 deadline of last year," said Clyde E. Rankin, bonus director.

He said veterans' organizations are ready to back a bill introduced in the senate last week by Sen. Samuel B. Wolfe (R-Union) to extend the deadline.

But Rankin cautioned about a recurrence of the annual deadlines that followed issuance of the bonus to World War One veterans the early 1930's.

The filing date was renewed so many times that it was not until after the end of World War Two that the job was finally cleaned up.

The Bonus Bureau chief estimated there are about 21,000 Pennsylvania veterans of World War One who have not yet either received their bonus or who have not yet applied.

More than 1,194,000 veterans already have been paid checks ranging up to $500 each on the basis of $15 a month for overseas duty and $10 monthly for service in the states.

Voters authorized a $500,000,000 bond issue in 1949 to finance the bonus. The commonwealth has issued $440,000,000 of the bonds.

The task of paying off the bonus will be decided by the 1951 legislature which must raise enough money to finance $66,700,000 in interest payments for the next two years.

The bonus bonds are expected to be paid off in 15 years.

Leaders Confident Of Favorable Vote On Issue Of Sending Troops To Europe

Washington, Jan. 23—(P)—The senate today, by unanimous consent, sent to its foreign relations and armed services committees a resolution on the controversial troops-to-Europe issue.

The resolution, sponsored by Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), proposed that the senate instruct the two committees to recommend by Feb. 2 legislation which would bar President Truman from committing troops to the North Atlantic defense force until congress passes on that action.

The senate had been scheduled to vote on the Wherry proposal at 2 p. m., but Senator Connally (D-Texas), chairman of the foreign relations committee, asked unanimous consent instead that the resolution be referred to the two committees for consideration.

Connally, in reply to a series of questions by Wherry, promised that the resolution would not be sidetracked in committee. He refused to promise that the measure would be returned to the senate at any definite time, however.

The GOP leader said that if the senate refuses to instruct the committees as he desires, he will regard it as a vote against his move to delay troop commitments until congress acts. Mr. Truman says he has authority to commit troops regardless of what congress does.

Connally told reporters Wherry's proposal is "ridiculous and only a sheet of paper." He said a vote to send it to committee won't mean approval of the resolution and won't bind the committees in any way.

MUSMANNO THROWS COURT INTO UPROAR

Pittsburgh, Jan. 23 — (P)—Judge Michael A. Musmanno today testified Steve Nelson, western Pennsylvania Communist party chairman, once openly admitted in a radio broadcast he was working for a revolution in the United States.

Musmanno's testimony threw the anti-sedition trial of Nelson, Andrew Onda, party organizer, and James Dolsen, correspondent for the Daily Worker, into an uproar.

Judge Henry X. O'Brien restored order after a five-minute verbal exchange between the jurist and Nelson.

Sires, W. F. Crossett, Sheriff L. E. Linder, and Ray Thompson. Meanwhile another organizational meeting has been scheduled for North Warren next Monday night, January 29th. Donald Schuler, district director, announced that the meeting is open to the public and is for Conewango township. Milton Peterson is assistant to Mr. Schuler and they have called the meeting for 8 o'clock in the North Warren community house.

MARSHALL IS QUESTIONED AT HEARING

Washington, Jan. 23—(P)—Secretary of Defense Marshall said today the U. S. troops under General MacArthur need 15,000 replacements a month and it will be April before his divisions are built up to "normal strength."

Marshall testified at hearings by the house armed services committee on the defense department's request for the universal military service and training for 18 year olds.

The department also asks that the length of service by drafted men be extended from 21 months to 27.

Marshall, noting the military manpower goal is 3,462,000 by June 30, said "We will have to increase our forces beyond this strength if the situation worsens."

The defense secretary cited MacArthur's needs for replacements and the possibility of an increase in the military manpower goal as reasons for extending the draft to 18 year olds. At present, the draft reaches only men aged 19 to 26.

Marshall said that when the Korean campaign began last June, MacArthur had in Japan four divisions at about half strength.

He said MacArthur made the "very courageous decision" to put 30,000 South Koreans into the ranks of the American divisions.

Thus, he said, "We had to depend on men who had three weeks training or no training at all" and to the tune of about 36 per cent of division strength.

He said that when he took over last fall as secretary of defense these American units were still 20 per cent short in American manpower.

It was Marshall's second trip to the capitol to urge universal military training and service. He also urged a 27 month draft.

Calls The Budget Disaster Invitation

Washington, Jan. 23—(P)—Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) today termed President Truman's $71,500,000,000 budget "an invitation to disaster" and demanded that the White House recall it.

Bridges, top Republican on the senate appropriations committee, said in a statement that the White House had practiced "outright deceit" in contending that non-defense spending had been cut.

"If Stalin himself were given the opportunity to weaken America from within, he could scarcely produce a plan better calculated to destroy this government," Bridges declared. "We are being asked, literally, to spend ourselves to ruin."

Congress, of course, is not bound to vote the money Mr. Truman asked. It may vote more or less at its discretion.

Bridges contended that the budget, for the year beginning July 1, "actually requests authority to spend $94,500,000,000 and another $4,000,000,000 to liquidate old bills."

For this reason, he said, the $16,500,000,000 in new taxes suggested by the president "will not come close to balancing our federal books."

JURIST RETIRING

Washington, Jan. 23—(P)—President Truman yesterday approved the request of Nelson McClellan for retirement as federal judge for the western district of Pennsylvania, effective February 1. McClellan, 79 years old, has been a district judge since September, 1928.

Legislative Program Subject Of Conference Between Fine And Leaders of Both Parties

Harrisburg, Jan. 23—(P)—A senate program got under way today to start legislation rolling through the general assembly when the 1951 session reconvenes on Feb. 5.

Sen. John M. Walker, the Republican floor leader, said committee chairmen would be called in during the present recess to help draft primary legislation.

"The chairmen will be asked to get their committees together and review the bills so that they may be ready for introduction," Walker told a reporter.

The plan to work on legislation during the recess followed a conference yesterday of Republican assembly leaders with Governor John S. Fine.

Walker and other GOP top assembly men attending said there was a general discussion of the administration legislative program, built around the Republican platform but that no conclusions were reached.

Sen. John H. Dent, Westmoreland, the Democratic floor leader, and Sen. John J. Haluska, Cambria, the Democratic whip, were expected to attend a meeting today of the important senate rules committee.

He emphasized, however, if a second conference with Fine is held it would be limited to talks on legislation and that there would be no discussion of the mix-up over the governor's cabinet.

The meeting with Fine, if it develops, will be held after his return from Reading where he addressed the Pennsylvania Council of Churches at a luncheon meeting.

The bill drafting work so far is limited to the senate since house committees have yet to be set up and no legislation has yet been introduced in that branch.

The cabinet situation developed over the governor's effort to retain Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti for a time, without senate confirmation, under a commission issued by former Governor James H. Duff. Democrats rejected that plan and said they would withhold confirmation of Fine's entire cabinet until he submits the appointment of an attorney general.

The chief clerk of the house, William E. Hahysaw, would receive a $1500 increase to $9,000 a year; and the secretary and parliamentarian would receive $1,000 annual pay boosts.

Governor Fine conferred at length with Republican legislative leaders yesterday. Although Fine refused comment on the sessions, several of the legislative leaders termed the discussions "progress talks."

"We made a lot of progress and the study of the program will be outlined," one spokesman said.

Another legislator said the chief discussion centered around the Republican platform on which Governor Fine was elected in last fall's general election.

HUSBAND RESUMES STAND AT HEARING

Pittsburgh, Jan. 23—(P)—Special Prosecutor W. Denning Stewart said today the state's special grand jury probe of racketeers in Homestead also will cover activities of professional bondsmen.

Stewart said the first witness subpoenaed is Paul Childs. His son, Harvey, is awaiting action by an Allegheny county grand jury of attempting to persuade a witness to perjure. Jury sessions resume Monday.

AUTO IS NO HOME!

Cleveland, Jan. 23—(P)—Providing only an automobile for a home is gross neglect of duty, Judge Julius M. Kovachy has ruled. On that ground, he granted a divorce yesterday to Bobbie Lee Robinson, 16. She said she lived in her husband's automobile from last May to September, then went home to mother.

Between 112 and 127 persons had been buried by the snow in Austria during four terror-filled days. The number of missing was unknown as an estimated 45,000 persons — including thousands of foreign tourists — remained isolated from the rest of the world.

In Switzerland lessening of the snowfall and a temperature drop cut the avalanche danger sharply, but reports from all areas in the Austrian Alps said the slides still were roaring down, carrying boulders and uprooted trees with them and demolishing farms, hunting lodges and haystacks.

Three were dead in France. Innsbruck, capital of the Austrian Tyrol and its 100,000 population was isolated except for a one-way path cut through the mountain passes to the east. Lack of drinking water, caused by slide destruction of most waterworks, threatened the city with epidemics.

Italy reported 25 dead, 30 injured and 20 missing following huge slides in the Livigno Valley, on the Swiss-Italian border, and in the Venezia Tidentina region near the Austrian border.

Allied And Red Planes Clash In Biggest Air Battle Since Start of Korean Hostilities

Tokyo, Jan. 23—(P)—American Thunderjets streaking over northwest Korea shot down four Russian-made MIG-15s today in history's biggest jet air battle.

The F-84s also scored one probable kill and damaged four more of the Russian speedsters with the back-swept wings.

A.P. Correspondent John Randolph, at U. S. Fifth Air Force headquarters in Korea, said all the American planes returned safely. Not a single bullet hole was found in the Thunderjets, he added.

On the ground, Allied combat teams Tuesday reoccupied the central Korean road-rail hub of Wonju and its airstrip. They also seized nearby hills 233 and 273, ousting a force of nearly 100 Reds off the latter with an artillery barrage. A spokesman said at 10 p. m. (8 a. m., EST) Tuesday that United Nations forces were "in control of all Wonju."

Thirty-one miles southeast, Allied forces were battling Red Koreans in Yongwol. Heavy fighting also raged southeast of Tanyang.

In the air fight, 33 U. S. Thunderjets tangled with 18 to 28 MIGs over Sinuiju, just across the Yalu river from Manchuria.

"There was a real commotion, a real mixup," said one airman. Soon after daylight Tuesday the Thunderjets struck at Sinuiju airfield where photographs had showed a number of enemy planes.

Then the swift Jets flashed across the Yalu river from Antung in the sanctuary of Manchuria.

For 30 minutes the air battle flamed as the roaring jets streaked from high altitudes to low and swooshed upwards again at dazzling speeds.

"I'll say this for the MIG pilots," one American jet captain commented. "They are damned good and they aren't afraid of us."

In a companion raid, 46 F-86 Shooting Star Jets screamed down on the flak defenses of Pyongyang to clear the way for a massive B-29 strike on that Red Korean capital.

Board Members Reelected and Reports Received At Annual Meeting of YWCA

Annual reports and reelection of six members to three-year terms on the board of directors featured the annual dinner-meeting of the YWCA, held last evening in the activities building.

Following the report of the nominating committee, presented by Mrs. Grover Lind, elections renamed Mrs. James Bailey, Mrs. Charles Cable, Mina Rieder, Jennie Ryan, Mrs. Ralph Sires and Mrs. Carl Whipple as directors.

Mrs. Paul Harrington, Mrs. E. K. Rogers, Evelyn Boyd, Mrs. G. W. Buerkle and Pearl Lund were elected to the 1951 nominating committee.

A star theme, carried out in blue and yellow, was the setting for the 37th annual meeting. Tables for the 6:15 dinner were decorated with star candles, philodendron, and colorful folders entitled "Stars Fall on the YWCA." These carried the summary of the 1950 activities of the "Y."

Mrs. Ralph Sires gave the invocation preceding the dinner, which was served to 95 members and guests. During the serving, the group enjoyed singing "Follow the Glean" and "Tell Me Why."

MayBelle Bairstow, president of the board, conducted the business session, calling for annual reports of both the secretary, Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin, and the treasurer, Mrs. U. S. Rogers.

Recognition was given the presidents and members of the Y clubs represented: High School Girls' Club, Blue Triangle Club, Two-Four Club, Ali-We-Je Club, and the newly-organized Home Council. Also recognized were the many members who have served on committees in the past year.

Y-Teens joined the group for the program, which included two solos, "Donkey Serenade" and "An Irish Lullaby" by Jim Cooney, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Carl Whipple. A trio composed of Carl Barrett, Ann Dalrymple and Anne Israel sang "None But the Lonely Heart," "The Big Brown Bear," and a negro spiritual, "The Old Ark's A-moverin'!" with their accompaniments played by Stavroulakis Panos.

For the main feature of the evening, Mrs. Leonard Knupp presented Guinevere Knapp, local teacher, who delighted the group with an account of her trip to the west coast and Alaska. She illustrated her talk with beautifully colored slides and gave the audience added pleasure with some scenes of local beauty.

The program and arrangements for the meeting were handled by Mrs. Knupp, Mrs. E. K. Rogers and Mrs. Paul Harrington.

Board members will hold their annual organization meeting with dinner, next Monday evening, when officers will be chosen to serve in 1951 and committee chairmen will be appointed.

Nothing Better Than Good Food, Says Ohio Man

If a man isn't able to eat the foods he likes he's in mighty sorry shape — imagine going through life without being able to enjoy a fine bit platter of bacon and eggs. That is the way Joseph N. Damill, 3414 E. 5th Street, Dayton, Ohio, used to be, but since he has been taking HADACOL, he says he feels just fine and is able to enjoy lots and lots of fine foods. Mr. Damill found that taking HADACOL helped his system overcome a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Nicotin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Damill's statement: "The first bottle of HADACOL convinced me that HADACOL was what I needed for the gas on my stomach at nights. I could not keep food on my stomach, but after the first bottle I was going great. Now I eat bacon and eggs, and other foods that I never would stay with me. I also can sleep well at nights. Thanks to HADACOL, I will never be without it, and can recommend it to all who suffer with the above ailments that I had. I know because I have suffered for quite some time."

Church Dedication Anniversary Held At Youngsville

Youngsville, Jan. 23—The 41st anniversary of the dedication of the Youngsville Evangelical United Brethren church was fittingly observed in special services held Sunday.

At the 11 a. m. service, Bishop J. B. Showers of Harrisburg, former bishop of this area and known to a number in town, gave an inspiring sermon. The choir used as its anthem, "Ye That Stand in the House of the Lord."

A fine musical program marked the afternoon service, with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carr, Erie, assisted by the men's chorus of the local church. For the 7:30 p. m. service, Pastor Harold Lindquist conducted the opening devotionals and thanked all who had helped in making the anniversary occasion one to be remembered by all concerned. Bishop Showers gave a second address, based on the experiences of Jesus as a speaker in the synagogue in his home city and the nearby town of Capernaum. He closed with a touching story of his own experiences in evangelism as a 20 year old pastor serving four congregations. The women's chorus of Salem church, Warren, sang several selections for this evening service.

FIRE INVESTIGATED

Pfc. Szymanowicz, state police fire investigator working out of the Lawrence Park station at Erie, was in Warren yesterday to investigate the Sunday night fire at the Eaton home at Rogerstown. He is working with Pfc. Paul Dell, of the Warren station. Officers said the investigation is continuing today. Fire Chief Leonard Falbriski, of Clarendon, is also continuing an investigation as to probable cause of the fire, which destroyed the 24-room home with an estimated loss of $20,000.

PLANE STILL MISSING

The Titusville Civil Air Patrol continued its search yesterday for the plane with two Detroit men missing on a flight from Rochester, N. Y., to Detroit. Two more areas near Marienville were covered without success. Reports were received indicating the two-motored Cessna flew over Titusville shortly after noon on Friday, headed in a southeasterly direction. Dick Grove of Tryonville saw such a plane fly over here while he was at work in the city. He said it was between 1,500 and 2,000 feet up, was all silver except for a red nose and red stripes on the tail. A somewhat similar report was made by Bill Murray of Titusville. Although there are two such ships at the Titusville airport, neither was in the air at that time. The day was clear and sunny and apparently the plane was in no trouble. According to the flying time of such a craft, local flyers think it would be forced down for lack of gasoline by about 4 p. m. that day. If it was in the air that long its position would be far west of here. The plane was piloted by Jack Yahres. The passenger was Ray Williams.

An excellent musical program is slated for 8 p. m. tomorrow night in the Sheffield high school auditorium when the school music department presents a woodwind and brass ensemble in a program. Proceeds from the program will go towards the purchase of new costumes for the high school cheerleaders. Tickets are on sale from music department members.

Members of this ensemble, secured through the Antrim Lyceum Bureau of Philadelphia, include a pianist, marimba soloist, clarinet soloist, and a fourth person who doubles on the trombone and clarinet.

Some of the selections to be heard are a Frank Black arrangement of the "Second Hungarian Rhapsody," musical comedy selections, gypsy airs and more popular numbers.

Sheffield high school basketball squad will be idle this evening but on Friday they meet St. Marys in an Allegheny Mountain league game here.

County Has Heart Association Group

The American Heart Association announced today the granting of research fellowship awards totaling 173 thousand dollars to 41 individuals from funds contributed by the American public during the 1950 heart campaign last February. The current defense emergency has sharpened the need for more research in the field of heart and blood vessel diseases, the association said.

The Warren county chapter of the American Heart Association was recently chartered by the Warren Lions club with the Rev. H. A. Rinard as chairman of the chapter. A medical board of local doctors will function in conjunction with the local heart organization in the treatment of heart cases on the local level using funds from the Warren county chapter.

STEAL VALUABLE RING

Three Cleveland women and a man are facing charges in the theft of $1,500 in diamond rings from a jewelry store in Lock Haven. Police Sgt. William B. Ryan described the quartet as part of "a cross-country shoplifting ring." He identified the individuals, all Negroes, as Ann Aney, 22, Esther Brown Smith, 25, Helen Paula Young, 28 and Isaac Tate, 37. Ryan said the women entered the jewelry store and while one made a pretense of buying ear-rings, the others scooped up 11 diamond rings from a show case. The theft was not noticed until two hours later, 15 minutes after state police were notified, the group was picked up in their car on Route 15, 12 miles north of Williamsport. All but one of the rings was recovered.

THE EISENHOWER REPORT

It seems certain, according to Bruce Bissat, NEA editorial writer, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's report on his European swing will provide the most telling evidence in the senate argument over sending more American troops to Europe.

The general commands more respect both at home and among free nations abroad than almost any other man living. A recent poll by the Saturday Review of Literature showed that Americans consider him their greatest citizen.

Lawmakers and administrators in Washington can't help being affected by this fact, both as a general phenomenon and as a personal thing touching them. They listen to him because he speaks with conviction, without rancor, and with abiding confidence.

Several able reporters carefully chronicled "Ike's" final visit to the capital before his European trip. One said it was a "different city" because the general had passed through. He brought something fresh and new to a place torn by strife and doubt.

His faith in America and the West is profound. Those who talk with Eisenhower are infected by it. Yet there's nothing false or foolish about his optimism. At root his attitude is marked by stern realism.

He believes we can win out over communism if it comes to a life and death test. He thinks we can stand the contrast with communism but that communism knows it can't compete with our way of life.

Most heartening of all, according to capital newsmen, was the way "Ike" dealt with the damaging rift on foreign policy that now engages so much attention. He simply ignored it. He behaved as if all lawmakers had their country's interest at heart no matter what their views. He spoke as a man who had been given a tough assignment and is anxious to get on with it, not to get lost in futile bickering.

Eisenhower's known domestic views are such that he has been generally labeled a Republican. Yet he seems to know when to submerge his personal leanings and to consider only the nation's interest—without partisanship.

Congress and the Administration know that when Eisenhower talks of European defense needs and sending troops abroad, he will be speaking as a soldier and as an American. It goes without saying that they will listen. They will be inclined to heed his advice, too, since they realize they aren't likely to get any sounder guidance from any other source.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

It's pretty difficult to get something for nothing these days, but there's one item left that is used by the average person 14 times a day, and two out of five times he doesn't have to pay. That little item is the match.

The manufacture of matches is a $25 million-a-year industry in the United States, reports the World Book Encyclopedia. Each year, more than 500 million matches are produced, and of 200 billion book matches made in the United States every year, about 196 billion are given away with the sale of cigars, cigarettes, and tobacco.

Sweden had us topped for many years in the production of matches. The Swedish Match Company, formed in 1913 by Ivar Krueger, had match factories in 43 countries of the world and manufactured most of the world's matches. Krueger is said to have invented the common superstition that "three on a match" is unlucky, in order to sell more matches. His match empire lasted until 1932, when it was discovered he'd been using the company's capital for his own speculations.

Sweden now ranks fourth down the line led by the United States. Great Britain ranks second and the Soviet Union third.

Dr. Herbert Lamson, Boston University, marriage counsellor, in an article in Pathfinder Magazine, offers these resolutions for married couples: 1. Talk about your difficulties; don't clam up. 2. Be affectionate. 3. Go out once a week, or have friends in. 4. Don't expect your mate to be as enthusiastic over your friends as you are. 5. Don't try to dominate your mate. 6. Avoid constant nagging on one subject. 7. Stress things you agree on; minimize differences. 8. Be willing to modify irritating habits. 9. Expect relative, not absolute, happiness. 10. Don't take irritations out on your mate. 11. Remember birthdays and anniversaries. 12. Give public and private compliments to your husband or wife.

Among Those Interested in the Outcome

Here And There

This And That: What sounds like a culinary treat is promised this evening at the North Warren Community House when there will be an oyster stew as a benefit for the Fire Department of the village. . . . Speaking of North Warren, that was an unusual gathering last Friday evening at the home of Squire and Mrs. T. D. Cook, at that place when a dozen men, who played together when they were boys, held a reunion and swapped yarns of experiences and happenings over forty years ago. The last time the gang was together was fifteen years ago on the occasion of the 40th birthday anniversary of Mr. Cook, when they held a dinner-meeting at the Florence Kennett tea room on the Akeley-Frewsburg road. One of them recalled that while they chummed around together when boys they never organized into a club, but they met periodically; in the summer the sessions would be held outdoors, and in the winter the gang would meet in the old piano factory. . . . According to the Titusville Herald a game of basketball was played at Spartansburg Saturday evening between the Sparta Firemen and a five called the Youngsville Indies, but appears to have been the Merchants quintet which has been making such a good showing on courts in the area this season, resulting in a 62-52 victory for the Crawford county cagers. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Rowland, newlyweds, have shifted an old honeymoon custom completely into reverse; married Friday in Niagara Falls, N. Y., their home town, they left immediately for Titusville to spend their honeymoon, where they are guests of distant relatives, and "taking in the sights." . . . Here's a cooking hint from "The Guide Post," official publication of the Pennsylvania Co-Operative Potato Growers, Inc.: "To find out how to cook a potato, drop it into salted water, fry it, sink, bake it; if it floats, fry it. That is the basis of a new potato separator developed at Colorado A. & M. for commercial use." . . . State officials over the weekend gave twin reminders of the expiration of operator's licenses and the automobile inspection period on January 31, with a warning that strict enforcement of both motor vehicle code regulations will follow the expiration dates.

Morning Cleanup: State Senator L. E. Chapman, whose action in voting with the Democrats on a motion permitting Gov. Duff to recall the interim appointment of Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, provided the inspiration for a great amount of copy for political writers at Harrisburg the past week, is back in the capital today resuming conferences with Governor Fine and other state leaders, and it is expected that developments when the legislature convenes February 5th will reveal the motive back of the Warren man's surprising ballot. . . . The many friends of Assemblyman and Mrs. A. M. Gibson, of Sheffield, will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Gibson, patient in the Warren General Hospital for the past four weeks, continues to convalesce satisfactorily and may be able to return to her home later in the week. . . . The state-mate in Harrisburg over filling the office of attorney general has hundreds of appointments held up across the state with the result that official business connected with important positions is at a standstill because the officeholders do not have authority to function. . . . The Erie Sailors suffered a financial loss of $20,179.51 for the 1950 season while operating in the Mid-Atlantic League. . . . Your 1950 operator's license is good for but eight more days, and according to word from Harrisburg, there'll be no extension.

★ WASHINGTON COLUMN ★

They'll Argue and Argue And Argue and Argue and

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Crux of the big gab fest on foreign policy is whether the President has the power to send U. S. troops to Europe under the North Atlantic Treaty, and whether the President had such power to send U. S. troops to Korea under the United Nations resolution. President Truman thinks he has that power. Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio thinks the President doesn't have that power.

Both can cite the Constitution as their authority. Senator Taft cites Article I, section 8, paragraph 8: "The Congress shall have power . . . to declare war . . ."

That means that the President doesn't have the power to declare war. But the circumstances in today's situation are that the President has not declared war against the North Koreans nor against the Chinese Communists nor the Russians. And no declaration of war is involved in sending additional U. S. divisions to Europe. The President's asserted power to send more divisions to Europe stems from Article II, section 2, paragraph 1 of the Constitution: "The President shall be Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States . . ."

The President also has the authority to conduct foreign relations. The Constitution gives him the authority to make treaties and send ambassadors abroad, subject to confirmation by the Senate. Both the United Nations Charter and the North Atlantic Treaty were so ratified by the Senate.

BUT in this connection, Senator Taft makes two points: 1.—There is no legal obligation for the United States to send troops to Europe. Article 5 of the North Atlantic Treaty merely provides that the United States is obligated to go to war against any country that attacks one of the Atlantic Pact nations. The United States is left free to decide how it will fight that war, how much and what kind of aid it will give the European countries.

2.—The Act passed by Congress to implement the United Nations Charter provided for the commitment of troops only after a special military agreement to set up an international police force had been made by the Security Council. This agreement was specifically to be made subject to later ratification by Congress. Constitutional lawyers, senators and everybody else can and probably will argue interminably on the legal points that Senator Taft has raised. Unquestionably, the senator has a case, from a legal standpoint.

The other side of the argument is that the President as Commander-in-Chief has control over the armed forces of the United States to carry out his foreign policy. The power to send these forces outside the country is not dependent on Congress and it has been exercised without approval of Congress many times.

SINCE the Revolution, the United States has been in only five wars declared by Congress: The War of 1812 against England, Mexican and Spanish Wars, World Wars I and II.

But 85 instances are recorded in which the President has ordered U. S. land and sea forces into action against foreign powers without prior approval of Congress.

Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin and ex-Sen. Warren Austin of Vermont have both stated their belief that the President has the power to carry out U. S. commitments in relation to international policing under the United Nations.

But the debate on this question is just beginning. Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska and others think the President should send no U. S. troops abroad without prior, specific approval by Congress.

Great Progress Shown By Beaty School Music Groups In Mid-Winter Concert

Despite the fact that several other activities were scheduled for the same evening, the usual capacity house turned out at Beaty Junior High School last evening for the annual All-Beaty mid-winter concert.

Listeners could find little or nothing to criticize in the evening's performance, all groups singing and playing excellently within the capabilities expected of their ages. In fact, in several instances, the young musicians exceeded that expected skill.

Howard Andersen, director of the Treble Choir, has welded that group into a chorus worthy of any school. Its performance was vastly superior to previous appearances as the youngsters became more familiar with their work.

The Beaty Freshman Chorus, under Carroll Fowler, demonstrated what may be expected when the group reaches the senior choir stage. They sing easily and with good effect.

The instrumental groups, under Harry Summers, show promise of better than average high school concerts in years to come. The band, particularly, stands out in this respect. The students play with an enthusiasm not usually found in so young a group.

The band program included a cornet solo by Louis Garber, which was accompanied by Mr. Summers at the piano. Young Garber plays well, with a nice round tone, and was given a tremendous round of applause by the audience. His choice of number also showed a willingness to tackle something a little out of the ordinary. It was not easy, and required considerable effort to perform. Announcement was made by Mr. Summers of two additional musical attractions to which the public is cordially invited. The first of these is the Dragon Band concert, scheduled for next Thursday evening, February 1, and the second, the Choir concert February 22.

Jane M. Abbott Is Saturday Bride of Schenectady Man

Sugar Grove, Jan. 23—Jane M. Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Abbott, Sugar Grove, became the bride of Bob L. Johnson, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Johnson, Lexington, N. C., at 3 p. m. Saturday in the Methodist church. The Rev. E. L. Bolling performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white glads and mums and lighted candelabra. Mrs. Neil Scott, pianist, played traditional wedding airs.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white taffeta gown, floor length and styled with round collar on a high neckline, and full, tucked skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a headress with seed pearl trim matching that of her gown and her pearl necklace was the bridegroom's gift. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, pom poms and glads, with satin streamers.

Mrs. Stuart L. Andersen was matron of honor for her sister, wearing dusty rose taffeta fashioned like the bride's gown and a matching headress. Her flowers were carnations, pom poms and glads in pink, white and blue, with orchid satin streamers.

Max W. Bellis, Erie, was best man and ushers were Jack Abbott and Stuart Andersen, brother and brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception for 100 guests followed in the church parlors, aunts of the bride presiding at the pastel flower-trimmed table. Mrs. Arthur Cody poured and Mrs. Dewey Larson served the three-tiered cake. The Rev. and Mrs. Bolling, celebrated their 31st wedding anniversary, cut the second piece of cake. Aides were Mrs. Harold Barnes, Mrs. Walter Sweeney, and Mrs. Paul Carlberg, Jr., of Erie.

Guests were from Erie, Corry, Lakewood, Jamestown, Warren, Alexandria, Va., Buffalo and Chancellors Valley.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will be at home at Apartment A-4, Sheridan Village, Schenectady, N. Y., where Mr. Johnson is employed by the American Locomotive Division, General Electric. He is a graduate of North Carolina State College. His bride, graduate of Sugar Grove Joint Vocational School and Northwest Institute of Medical Technology at Minneapolis, Minn., has been employed as a member of the x-ray staff at Hamot Hospital in Erie.

Wartime 'Austerity' Needn't Make Housewives Grumble

IN predicting how "Life Will Be Different in 1951" for various groups, U. S. News and World Report says: "The housewife will have much to grumble about in 1951. Household budgets will not stretch as far. . . . It will be harder to set a table at reasonable cost. Clothing for the children will seem to be sky high. . . . Sometimes things will be scarce. Later there may be ration books to deal with. It will be more difficult than ever to get help around the house. . . . etc."

Well, that ought not to scare the housewife. She has gone through all that before.

She learned during World War II that budgets could be stretched to unbelievable lengths by the simple expedient of saying: "We just can't afford it." Remember, it was downright fashionable during the war years to economize in every possible way.

Rationing taught her all sorts of ways of providing good meals with a minimum of this or that scarce or rationed food. If in 1951 she has to ration her own buying because of higher prices, she can get out some of those old recipes she accumulated during the years of rationing.

NO ONE SUFFERED UNDER RATIONING

FOOD rationing itself, if it comes again, shouldn't scare her. It was a nuisance, but nothing worse. And it did provide endless conversation.

As for children's clothing going sky high, that may call for a little ingenuity. But any woman who is willing to spend some time at the sewing machine can make and make over clothes for children. And remember the swapping that went on during the last war when Mrs. Jones gave Bobby's outgrown clothes to Billy Smith and Billy's mother passed his on to someone else's child?

As for household help, many a woman learned during the war that she could get along without any help at all. And sometimes even found it was a relief to have her house to herself and not have to try to keep a maid happy.

No, if those should be the worst hardships the housewife will have to face in 1951 she won't have anything at all to grumble about. In fact, she ought to be downright grateful for having it so good.

Imagine how much easier it is cooking with GAS "pin-point" control—than with only 5 or 7 different heats! On an automatic GAS range, you choose the heat—any heat—that suits the food.

DREAM STUFF FROM YOUR OVEN!

Cakes golden-brown all over, baked anywhere in the oven, on any rack! Constant, even heat that never varies. That's what you get with an air-circulated oven—exclusive with an automatic GAS range!

JUICY, SIZZLING BROILED MEATS—WITHOUT SMOKE!

Smokeless broiling—with the door closed! Gas flame consumes fatty vapors before they can turn into smoke. Flameless broiling can't do that. So in the range you're considering, make sure you can broil meats smokelessly with the door closed.

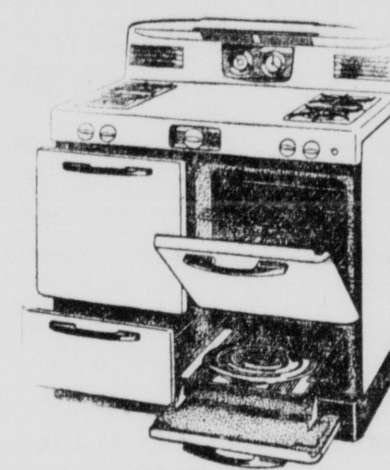

If you've ever used a pressure cooker, you'll know what we're talking about. You know how the pressure goes up or down when the heat varies even a tiny bit. That shows how important just the exact degree of heat is, with any kind of cooking!

WHEN YOU START TO COOK—COOK!

YOURS—FOR LIFE!

You needn't remember to turn on the gas before-hand. You set your pan on a top burner, turn on the gas, and it starts to cook right then. Even slow cooking takes less time on your gas range, because it starts to cook sooner.

The burners on your automatic GAS range are yours for life. No periodical replacement. They can't burn out. They're non-clog. Good for as long as your range is.

AND WHAT DOES THIS WONDERFUL KIND OF RANGE COST?

Why, you'll SAVE MONEY!—up to $100 on a modern, automatic type GAS range. You'll save on installation costs. You'll save forever after, too. Gas is so economical . . . and you'll have practically no maintenance compared with other types.

See these cooking wonders at your Dealer's or Gas Company Office—tomorrow!

2. An executive order from Mr. Truman widely expected to give Johnston vastly expanded authority for the ESA over the nation's economy.

Johnston, on leave of absence as head of the Motion Picture Association of America, yesterday received 9 to 0 approval of the senate banking committee to be economic stabilizer. Senate confirmation, possibly today, was regarded as certain.

Allied and Red Planes Clash In Biggest Battle

(From Page One)

The Fifth Air Force had 79 Jets in the air in the two strikes. Last Dec. 22, eight F-86 Sabre Jets shot down six MIGs and a probable seventh.

The Allied patrol that pushed through Wonju was bolstered with tanks. U. N. forces withdrew from the town one week ago after a fighting stand there but returned last Friday and have poked into the road center almost every day since.

Communist resistance there has lessened steadily.

But the Reds who retreated from Hill 273 took up positions on a nearby height and fired at Allied forces throughout Tuesday afternoon. Allied air and artillery strikes pounded the Reds.

Prisoners said two Chinese regiments were moving 17 miles west of Wonju.

In the fighting 10 miles southeast of Tanyang, U. S. Seventh Division doughboys had cornered nearly 3,000 Red infiltrators and were hammering at them.

On the ground the heaviest battle in several days flared 10 miles southeast of Tanyang on the eastern central Korean front.

There was little fighting in any other sector. Intelligence reports to U. S. Eighth Army headquarters said the Chinese armies in the Seoul area were moving tanks across the Han river south of the burned-out former capital.

A. P. Correspondent Jim Becker said the Reds were using pontoon bridges across the half-frozen river. He said also aggressive Allied patrols had pushed well into normal Communist sectors in the west and central areas without contacting the Reds.

The senate committee, headed by Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), recessed its hearing today but will resume tomorrow.

Members of the house committee generally are agreed that the draft law will have to be tightened to meet mounting military manpower needs.

But they are equally agreed that teenagers shall not be sent into battle without a legal requirement that they have adequate training beforehand.

The present draft law expires on June 9, by which time the armed forces expect to have 3,500,000 men in uniform compared with 1,400,000 in mid-1950.

Nevertheless, he was studying the possibility of trying to take the time limit and other instructions out of the resolution.

The Texas senator said he is confident that when the senate gets around to voting on the main issue, it will approve the sending of American ground forces and other units to Europe to join the international defense force being set up under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Connally is preparing his own version of that proposal.

The committee chairman said Eisenhower will be asked to testify in closed session either before or after he reports in public to an informal session of all the lawmakers next week.

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb said the Peiping proposals, as reported by India, "appear to come closer to saying 'Yes' to the cease-fire proposals." He urged that they be given the closest consideration.

Jebb voted with the majority to delay for 48 months—until Wednesday—consideration of the American demand that the Chinese Communists be denounced as aggressors in Korea. Many delegates regarded this 27 to 23 rejection of Austin's appeal for immediate action the worst defeat the U. S. has suffered in the five-year history of the U. N.

U. S. sources disputed this view and said they were still confident their policy eventually would win overwhelming support.

THE MARKETS

New York, Jan. 23—(P)—There was a note of firmness today in the stock market. Resistance to selling attempts was apparent from the start of trading. Losses were held to a dollar a share or less and gains extended upward by a similar margin with stocks on the plus sign holding a clear majority. Although there was no particular buying enthusiasm in any one of the major groups, there was a long list of individual issues among miscellaneous manufacturers singled out for especial attention. Motors were indecisive with threats of unwelcome cutbacks due to materials shortages on the one hand and estimates on the other than first quarter production at least is not likely to be affected much by shunting steel to high priority war orders.

Rockets Upset Atlantics To Close First-Half Schedule

The Rocket's close 42-40, upset Atlantics in the Y City League last night, drew the curtain on the first-half schedule of the 1950-51 season. Winners of this half, the Style Shop, took their ninth victory by walloping the New Process, 67-43, in the opening game.

Atlantics' defeat drew the Youngsville Merchants into a two-way tie with them for second place, both teams with a 6-4 record, and put the Rockets into third place, having a 5-5 account.

The New Process and Ramblers are left in the cellar, each winning only two games in 10 starts. Their fourth consecutive win, after coming out of a slump, the Rockets let their opponents have a works in the first half of the game, outscoring them, 26 to 18.

The Atlantics five began hitting the last two periods, but were unable to pass the rockets at any time. The victor's margin, however, was cut to one point in the last two minutes of play, with only pressure on both teams.

Nick Creola popped six set shots, best of them from mid-court, and free-throw throws, to lead the rockets with 15 points. He was followed by Bill Tannier, with 11, while Bill Weidert and Paul Smith led the Atlantics floor-men, with 12 and 12 respectively.

It wasn't until the final period at the Style Shop got going, picking up 25 points to New Process' six. At the end of the third quarter the league leaders were ahead by five points, after being threatened by a single point margin earlier in the period.

Accounting for 16 points, Donaldson, New Process, took driving honors for the night's games. The Style Shop scoring was evenly shared, Stud Simpson with 10 counters.

Second-half games open Thursday night, the New Process meeting the Ramblers at seven, and the Rockets against the Style Shop at eight.

"We missed a slam in this hand," confesses a New York City reader, "but we don't know where our mistake occurred. South didn't want to bid a slam with two losing hearts in his hand. North felt that he had shown his full strength by opening with a two-bid and then carrying on to four spades."

"Who was the culprit, and how should the hand be bid?"

South was the culprit.

Let's make a very simple change in the South hand, by changing one of the low hearts to a low club. South would then have only a singleton heart. How would South then bid his hand?

South would then make a first response of two no-trump, followed by a spade bid. North would raise to four spades, whereupon South should bid either five or six spades. I would bid six.

spades myself, and so would most good players, but if a conservative player felt like bidding only five spades nobody would send him to jail.

can also raise spades, that suit should be considered solid. It must be remembered also that South's first two bids would be the same if he had his spade length but had no high cards at all in clubs or diamonds.

Now, how wary should South be because of the fact that he actually holds two low hearts instead of just a singleton? This fact should make very little difference because it is dollars to doughnuts that North has a singleton heart.

It is fairly general practice to indicate shortness in a suit by bidding the other three suits. The stronger the bidding, the more likely it becomes that the player has at most one card in the unbid suit. In this case, North opened with two clubs and then bid diamonds and spades. It was almost unthinkable that he could have two losing hearts.

South should have bid five or six spades, almost exactly as

Price Boosts and Unavailable Items Featuring Spring Mail Order Catalogues

Chicago—(P)—Big price boosts and "unavailable" items feature the two biggest spring mail order catalogues now being mailed to customers in various parts of the nation.

Both Sears, Roebuck and Company and Montgomery Ward and Company have some of their catalogues in the mails, although it may be a month before shipment is completed.

Automobile tires are up 25 to 35 per cent from last year, bed-sheets 20 to 29 per cent, blankets 20 to 25 per cent, and men's shoes eight to 16 per cent.

A sprinkling of the "sorry, not available" overprint shows up on some items, just as was the case during the last war and postwar shortage periods.

Ward's catalogue prices washing machines eight to 14 per cent higher, gas ranges seven to 18 per cent higher than a year ago, and refrigerators $10 to $25 higher than in the fall book.

Sears is no longer showing its automatic washing machine, first run in the catalogue a year ago, and is reducing the six models of refrigerators listed in the fall catalogue to three in the new one.

Here and there, but hard to find, is a price decline. You can get 100 baby chicks from Ward for $16.95, compared with $17.90 last spring and from Sears at $15.90 instead of $16.50. But wire to fence them in costs 16% more.

Neither Sears nor Ward states a specific policy about quantity limitations on orders. A check at telephone order offices disclosed Sears is limiting sheets to six a customer in Chicago. Ward restricts sheets to six or eight, depending on how they are packaged, and also limits gas ranges one to a customer, and has limitations on plumbing and heating supply purchases.

Floor coverings showed some of the sharpest price advances.

Sears last January, featured on one of its front pages, devoted to special buys, muslin sheets at two for $3.34. The lowest price in the 1951 book for muslin sheets of comparable size is two for $3.90.

Ward's best quality percale sheets are $4.25 each, compared with $3.88 last year. Sears' best percale is $4.59, compared with $4.13.

A top quality catcher's mitt will cost Junior $11.45 from the new Ward's book, instead of $9.45.

In women's apparel, Ward has a dress price range of $2.98 to $16.98, compared with $2.29 to $15.98 last year. Nylon blouses this year are $6.98, while 1950 models sold for $5.98.

Hal Boyle's Comment

BY TOM BRADSHAW
(FOR HAL BOYLE)

On the central front in Korea—(P)—At the moment Pvt. Gilbert Hubert is a long way from the little book shop he once operated in the French Alpine skiing resort of Val Disere.

Being absent from his beloved shop is not to Gilbert's liking but it is a separation of his own choosing.

Gilbert is a Frenchman—but beyond that he is an ardent believer in the brotherhood of man. That's why he shouldered arms to fight against German and Italian aggression in World War II. And that's why he volunteered to accompany the French detachment to Korea.

Back in Val Disere Gilbert Hubert was a man of no little consequence. He was a respected businessman and something of a scholar. Moreover, he loves to ski and in Val Disere there was much skiing.

Why does a man like Gilbert Hubert leave his wife, his books and his favorite skis to journey half way around the world in search of trouble?

"I believe in the United Nations," explains Gilbert. "I came to Korea to fight against the ignorance of so many people."

He says it with a slight shrug of the shoulders as if the matter was hardly worth discussion.

Gilbert's sacrifices becomes all the more remarkable when you examine the schedule of his everyday duties.

He is personal orderly to the commanding officer of the French detachment, Lt. Col. Ralph Charles Montclair, a four star general who took a considerable reduction in rank to come over.

As the commander's orderly Gilbert cooks, sews, sweeps, chops wood and last—but far from least—absorbs the explosive and frequent wrath of the man he serves so well.

Montclair, former Inspector general of the French Foreign Legion, is not a hard man to get along with but there are moments when the situation affects his temperament. Gilbert usually is the handiest target.

Gilbert accepts such outbursts philosophically and merely says, "Oul, mon General."

That's the sort of guy Gilbert Hubert is. He doesn't fluster easily.

Life with a front line unit in Korea is not too hard for him to take. For one thing he is used to the sort of mountain country he found here.

The cold doesn't bother him as much as it might either. It gets pretty cold back in Val Disere.

His World War II experience helped harden him for Korea.

The two things he minds most are the lack of his books and the clothes he must wear at war.

He shows you some snapshots of Gilbert Hubert in civilian dress. "Maybe," he says wistfully, "we will meet again in a different situation."

"I HATED THE THOUGHT OF 'CHANGE OF LIFE'

but Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proves wonderful to relieve hot flushes!

"I had heard so many tales about women going through 'change of life' which is usually between 38 and 52 years—I really dreaded reaching middle-age for fear I like so many women, would suffer from hot flushes and nervous irritability due to this functional period peculiar to women. I tried to laugh it off but all of a sudden I found myself suffering from these embarrassing symptoms! Then believe it or not—my mother-in-law told me how wonderful Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is to relieve such symptoms. I started taking Pinkham's Compound and I find I get amazing relief from hot flushes and flighty, high-strung, nervous feelings—when due to this cause.

"In fact I take Pinkham's Compound regularly—to help build up resistance against such middle-age distress. I suggest if you suffer this way to give it a trial."

P. S. Pinkham's Compound tastes swell in fruit juice or water.

Mackenzie's Column

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Appeasement of Communist China has been riding the Asiatic monsoon over wide areas the past weekend, and this condition has been reflected in the halls of the United Nations at Lake Success.

Twelve Arab-Asian countries want to give Red Peiping another chance at a cease-fire offer, and they find either outright or tentative support in some western quarters. The atmosphere has been one not only of extreme caution but of reluctance to take any attitude or hostility towards the Communist camp.

The question in the minds of governments which are sitting under the big guns of Moscow-backed Peiping is not whether China is right. It's whether she has the physical ability to impose her will—whether a major war will result if she is challenged.

British Hong Kong is fearful of branding Red China an aggressor. Britain herself is uncomfortable and cautious. Indonesia says giving China this label would lessen the chances of averting World War. Huge India, across which falls the shadow of the Chinese dragon is thumbs down on charging China with aggression. Prime Minister Nehru wants to give Peiping another chance to talk cease-fire.

Behind this atmosphere probably is the reluctant recognition by Asia that China doesn't want a cease-fire in Korea, in fact that she doesn't want general peace at this juncture. The reason is clear enough. She is satisfied that her present tactics are profitable, and this viewpoint certainly will be strengthened by the appeasement complex.

An Associated Press dispatch from Tibet provides an amazing illustration of how Peiping—and consequently Moscow—are winning through their psychological warfare, backed by actual force. A Tibetan official stated that the Reds took over this little Himalayan state without firing a single shot.

"They used skyrockets," said this official, "and other fireworks to turn night into day and to permit Tibetan officers and troops to see fear on each others' faces. In a few hours all the officers, including the commanding general, fled; but they were captured by patrols."

The Chinese then laid themselves out to give the captured officers kind treatment with the result that the officers sent word to the capital that it was possible to defeat the Chinese. This resulted in surrender.

Of course that sort of psychological trick couldn't be worked on the western world. And yet China's curt rejection of the U. N. cease fire proposal is actually a piece off the same cloth. The immediate reaction of the Asiatic countries has been similar to that of Tibet—one of fear and an apparent inclination to take refuge in appeasement.
